SOME ADVICE TO EXHIBITORS

1. Make your entries early, either in person or by mail, and take your exhibits to the grounds at the time designated in the rules, and don't ask to remove them until the close of the Fair.
2. Upon your arrival at the grounds with livestock for exhibition, inquire for the Superintendent of the Department in which you are an exhibitor, who will conduct you to the area your exhibit is to occupy. If your articles are for exhibition in the Main Building, he will assign you space and give you all desired information.
3. The Department Chairs will be found at or near their respective Departments, and it is their top priority to give you all needed assistance to make it pleasant for you.

INSTRUCTION TO JUDGES

The Judges, upon arrival at the grounds, will report to the Department Superintendent to be given instructions. The examination of exhibits will immediately take place. Judges are respectfully requested to be punctual in attendance.

The Manager of the Association shall be ex-officio chairman of the committee to fill up vacancies and decide all disputed questions.

Judges must confine their awards strictly to premiums offered by the Association. No attention will be given by the Judges to any article without its number and card.

If the Judges are not satisfied as to the regularity of the entries in their respective classes, they will apply to the Secretary for information, and should there be any doubt, after examination, they will report the facts to the Secretary for consideration of the Executive Committee.

The Judges of agricultural products will give preference to such varieties as are adapted to the interest of the farmer, regarding yield, quality and market value thereof.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO JUDGES

The Judges will, in all cases, whether there is competition or not, award only such premiums as they think proper, either first or second or reduce the amount or withhold altogether as the merit of the animal or article may warrant and write the amount so awarded in the committee book, or mark unworthy.

As soon as the Judges complete their awards they will deliver their reports to the Department Superintendent. At the close of the show the Judge will sign the entry book, with remarks or explanations on the margin for any irregular notice.

Each department, excluding Dept. 22, has the option of choosing a Best of Show entry. A rosette will be awarded.
